Step-by-step instruction for panel registrations

The following guide explains the registrations for the single panel sessions on the website. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic and the concomitant legal requirements we are obliged to gather personal information on every person participating in each panel session (see further Brandenburgische Umgangsverordnung §3 Abs.2).

To simplify the registration process, we invite you to create a member's account at the website borderingcultures.org. This fills in all the needed information (Name, e-mail address and/or phone number) into the required fields during the panel registration process. This guide also shows how to create and manage the member account and the registrations.

Data Protection Notice

According to the "Brandenburgische Umgangsverordnung" § 3 Abs. 1 and Abs. 2 (https://bravors.brandenburg.de/verordnungen/sars_cov_2_umgv#4), the conference organizer is obliged to gather personal data about the conference participants who will be present. The purpose is to enable contact tracing by the health authorities in the event of a reported COVID-19 case at the conference. Your name and contact details will be made known to the organizational team. Your name will be made known to those responsible for managing entry to the conference venues. Conference participants who seek entry to a conference event for which they have not registered in advance are obliged to provide the person managing entry with their name and contact details.

The data you provide will be completely deleted after four weeks following the conference.

Step 1: Creating a member's account

Click the button "Log In" in the top right corner of the website

Fill in your e-mail address and choose a password.

(By using the e-mail address with which you already registered for the conference some personal information will be retrieved from the former conference registration)
